

THE NEWS-LEADER.

New Series—Vol. IV.

SPRINGFIELD, WASHINGTON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, MARCH 25, 1897.

No. 12.

MAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Calculated for the greatest strength and best results. Leaves the foot soft and clean and all forms of adulteration gone. It is the cheapest and best. B. L. LING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Local or Wholesale, 10 cents per box for the first, and 5 cents for each subsequent lot.
Cuts on medicine and political matter.
24 cents per box.
Job work is done at low rates, but cash must be paid on delivery of goods.
All advertising notices made on liberal terms.

Objections and resolutions of respect to parties.

County Magistrate, $2.50
County Officers, $1.00
District Officers, $0.50

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

BAPTIST CHURCH.
Rev. C. O. Pugh, Pastor. Services every Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday School at 9:30; Prayer Meeting on Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m.

METHODIST CHURCH.
Rev. F. H. Atkins, Pastor. Services on the First and Third Sundays in each month at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
Rev. E. O. Lawson, Pastor. Services every Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.; Prayer Meeting every Thursday night.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.
Rev. F. H. Atkins, Pastor. Services every Sunday at 8 and 10 o'clock a. m. Services at 8 a. m. and 8 p. m.

PRATERNAL ORDERS.
Marion Lewis—Springfield Lodge No. 80 meets every Monday in each month.
Washington B. O. Chapter, No. 7, meets every third Monday.
Springfield Council No. 10, meets every fourth Monday.
Knights of Honor—Meets every second and fourth Monday in each month.
Knights of the Ku Klux Klan—Meets every third Wednesday of each month.

COUNTY DIRECT

COUNTY COURT.
Court begins on the fourth Monday of February; May and October.
C. H. Patterson, Judge.
W. S. Sweeney, Commonwealth Attorney.
F. H. Atkins, Clerk.
F. H. Atkins, Master Commissioner.

QUARTY COURT.
Quarterly court is held on the third Monday in January, April, July and October.
Jack W. Thompson, Judge.

QUARTY COURT.
County Court meets on the fourth Monday of each month.
Jack W. Thompson, Judge.
W. F. Moore, County Clerk.
J. B. Thomas, County Attorney.
J. B. Smith, Jailer.
J. T. Grayson, Sheriff.
J. B. Smith, Deputy Sheriff.
James F. Moore, County Surveyor.
W. F. Moore, Assessor.
B. A. Hox, Tugboat.
W. F. Moore, County Treasurer.

SPRINGFIELD DIRECTORY.
J. O. Hox, Police Judge.
John Green, Marshal.
W. O. Read City Attorney.

JUSTICE COURT.
Justice courts are held in January, April, July and October.

There is nothing so good for the rough and cold as the children and babies as Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey. It cures croup, whooping cough, cold in the head and gives sweet, refreshing sleep. Children love it—old people like it. Good Druggists sell it.

Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey acts as a tonic to the lungs, cutting the mucus, soothing the inflammation, healing and strengthening. It is sure to do you good—cannot do you harm. Thousands have been benefited by its use.

To Consume.
As an honest remedy, John's Honey and Tar does not hold out false hopes in advanced stages, but truthfully claims to give relief and relief in the very worst cases and in the early stages to effect a cure.

ODDS AND ENDS OF GOSSIP.

WORK.—The new town hog law looks like a charm, and since it went into effect the streets of our town have put on a new and metropolitan air. The festive hog is in evidence no longer, and town cows have been transferred to pastures new. There was considerable complaint at first among the owners of hogs who have been grazing their stock upon the public highway, who consider the new law a hardship upon the poor people and an unnecessary thing, but all will no doubt be better satisfied later on when they become accustomed to the new reform. Care should be taken by the authorities that the law is enforced literally, for if any carelessness is shown in the beginning, things will soon drift back into the old rut.

COLLECTOR.—Ex-Congressman John W. Lewis has been chosen quietly at home since the Fourth of March to succeed to his law practice, but it is said that he has a line out for something from the new administration, and here's hoping that he will get it, for if there is a man whose recognition by Mr. McKinley would be more pleasing to the people in this part of Kentucky, we don't know of any. Mr. Lewis has strong backing both among his friends in the state and at Washington, and it is said that at the proper time his name will be urged for the position of Collector of Internal Revenue for this district. There are already one or two Louisville men actively in the fight for the place, but there is no reason why the place should not go to some good man in the district outside of the city of Louisville.

CIVIL SERVICE.—The Civil Service system, by the way, is playing the mischief with the rural applicant for minor government jobs. Under the new regime the Collector will have the privilege of naming only two or three of the employees of that office, and the applicant for a storekeeper or gauger's place will be compelled to go through all their tedious business of the civil service and take his chances of appointment in line with the many others. The civil service examinations are thorough and difficult and it looks as if the old policy of rewarding the county politician of ability with a government job is a thing of the past.

NEW BOOK.—The "Immortals of Catholicism," compiled by the Ursuline Sisters of New York City, from the writings of sixty-four of the most illustrious women writers of the Catholic faith, has just been issued. It is a work of merit, and to our readers, in a measure, one of local interest. Two of the contributors are the Misses Rose and Frankie Howe, who some years ago spent several months at St. Catherine's of Sienna. The former is now dead. During life the two sisters spent years of travel in Europe and the Holy Land, and became writers whose productions and books were eagerly sought. Another, and the only native Kentuckian, is Mrs. Julia Barry Healy, who now resides in Nelson county. She married the late Dr. John Healy, of Marion county. Dr. Healy's "History of the Louisville Times," is also included in the list. She is a Virginian by birth and a Kentuckian by adoption. Mrs. Sally Margaret O'Malley, wife of Chas. J. O'Malley, editor of the Midland Review, is represented, as is Miss Miller, by an autobiography and contributions. Mrs. O'Malley is mentioned as being of Virginia-Kentucky ancestry.

YOUR INTELLIGENCE.
Your intelligence is questioned by the dropper who tries to induce you to let him bottle anything for you when you ask him for Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey. We dragged out this up for you—he cannot put up anything like it—it is not to be had in bulk—it is to be sold only in 25c, 50c and $1 bottles. There is nothing "just as good" as Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey. Avoid those substitutes with similar sounding names. When you buy Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey see that the bottle has never been opened and that it bears the name and trademark of "Good Old Grassy Mountain," and the name of the E. K. Sutherland Medicine Company, Fountain Park, Paducah, Ky.

The Budding Candidate.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

YOUR INTELLIGENCE.
Your intelligence is questioned by the dropper who tries to induce you to let him bottle anything for you when you ask him for Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey. We dragged out this up for you—he cannot put up anything like it—it is not to be had in bulk—it is to be sold only in 25c, 50c and $1 bottles. There is nothing "just as good" as Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey. Avoid those substitutes with similar sounding names. When you buy Dr. Bull's Pink-Tar-Honey see that the bottle has never been opened and that it bears the name and trademark of "Good Old Grassy Mountain," and the name of the E. K. Sutherland Medicine Company, Fountain Park, Paducah, Ky.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

THE BUDGING CANDIDATE.
One of the most interesting objects in humanity's show ring is the budding candidate. I watched one the other day. He had not quite made up his mind as to what particular office he would ask the voters for, but he was getting ready to strike them for something. When I saw him he was talking to Bill, and Tom and Jerry. These were not their right names of course, but that is the way of the world. He, the candidate, has lived in the same town with Tom and Bill, and still with Jerry, for some time, but not within the last few days he had not discovered the really good points possessed by Tom and Bill, like Jerry. In truth, he did not know which was Bill and which was Tom, and he might have gotten Jerry mixed up with either of them; but the other day he noticed Bill and Tom and Jerry all in a bunch on the corner, and it suddenly came back to him—their names—that he knew those fellows—that he had seen them frequently, in fact, and that they were devilish fine boys, don't you know. He fell into the crowd and before Tom and his friends could take in the situation the candidate was telling them a funny story. He finished the joke and slapped Jerry on the back as familiarly as he would have done had they been brothers. Then Bill thought of a good and told the candidate a story. Of course the candidate didn't see any point in the story—there was no point to it—but when Bill got through with his joke the candidate went into convulsions and laughed heartier than a small boy at his first circus. This of course was Bill's belief, and he was the funniest man outside of a minstrel show and he then and there made up his mind that the candidate was the finest fellow on earth. Then the candidate pulled out his plug and patted it around, bit off a piece himself, and after making some abusive remark about an unpopular county official who passed by, left Bill, Tom and Jerry to search for other game. I have since talked to all three of them and they said they were for the candidate for anything he wanted, because he "didn't consider himself too good to stop and talk to people."—Danville Advocate.

think God that we had one man that was willing to stand by the old and tried. But when I came to the death sentence for murder, I remembered that we live under the new dispensation, and I said: 'Oh, my Father, save the lawbreaker from being murderers, too.' Besides, it can't do justice to all, as you know in the case of Alice Platt, and again, there might be an innocent one hanged. See? The sentence for adultery seems a little strong, but it will stop so many dirty women, thanks to God to put it into your heart. Yet twenty years would be a wonderful help toward a reform in this line."

Irreverent members will offer a number of amendments. One to make it unlawful to "covet the neighbor's bicycle," and a long-suffering poker player wants added the eleventh commandment: "Thou shalt not be shy in a jack pot." — Popeye, dispatch to the Chicago Times-Herald.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.
After having been confined to the house for eleven days and paying out $20 doctor bills without benefit, Mr. Frank Doolan, of South St. Mar, Mich., was cured by one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Doolan says he has not since been troubled with that complaint. For sale by Hayden & Robertson.

WITH OUR FARMERS.
Notice stock, seed, grain, wanted or for sale or exchange inserted in this column free or charged. Farmers are requested to send in stock or crop items for publication.

Two good, big bay farm horses for sale. Apply to JOHN W. KELLY.

WANTED.—A cheap young stallion. Mr. W. Ryan & Son, Springfield, Ky.

The new tariff bill places a duty of $4 per ton on raw hemp, 150 per cent on dressed material. Each year sold on tons lowered and a cent and a half on carded tons.

An Iowa has invented a machine which he hopes to have in operation by the next harvest season, for cutting corn and separating the ears from the stalks at the rate of 16 acres per day.

The great saddle stallion, Montrose, 104, is dead at Highland Place, near Versailles. Although thirty years of age his eyes were undimmed, his legs without a pimple, and he stood easily the most remarkable stallion in the country.

"There is a remarkable cash demand for meat," says A. S. White, President of the International Live Stock Company, "as good a demand as ever known for the season of the year. Although the West is killing 100,000 more hogs each week, the supply of stock of meat is not increasing."

H. A. Tewksbury has bought another lot of hump from parties near Bryantville, amounting to about 300,000 pounds, which, together with the 500,000 last reported, was purchased at $8.00 per hundred instead of $1.15 as it had been. The latter correspondent of the Interior-Journal.

"Huron," the Isaac P. Shelby farm, situated ten miles from Lexington on the Richmond and Walnut Hills turnpikes, sold last Friday for $25,000 to W. L. Land, who recently bought the Ed Shelby place. Four hundred acres has been rented to London for the ten acres of property situated a short distance from the main farm was sold for $80 per acre. The rest of the acre for the Rumont farm was considered very cheap.

THE NEWS-LEADER

THURSDAY, MCH. 25, 1897.

E. L. DAVISON, JR.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE.

Patterson.

We are authorized to announce Charles Patterson, of Taylor county, a candidate for Circuit Judge of the Eleventh Judicial District, composed of Marion, Washington, Taylor and Greene counties, subject to the action of the Democratic party, November election, 1897.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Peters.

We are authorized to announce Orin Peters as a candidate for County Superintendent of public schools, for Washington county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Saunders.

We are authorized to announce T. J. Saunders as a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Common Schools of Washington county, subject to the support of the voters of the county and the endorsement of all political parties.

WHENEVER there is a change of administration in Washington an army of hungry office-seekers assemble there, and the scramble for office is amusing or pitiful, accordingly as we look upon it. Some professional commentators on public happenings say that this office seeking is a part of the American system, and being American, it is all right and proper. As a matter of fact, there is nothing peculiarly American about it; indeed, the custom is as old as government itself, and it has flourished most extensively and most perilously in those monarchies whose courts were most corrupt. We are not of those who believe that the political millennium is to be attained through the extension of the civil service regulations so that every government official must be bestowed after an examination fashioned on academic lines, but we are persuaded that such a method is at once better and more dignified than that which now prevails, and through which loud insistence counts for more than genuine worth.

Mr. John Boblett is gradually growing worse, but we still have hopes of his recovery.

Mr. Gould Houghlin had his auction last Saturday, but owing to unsatisfactory prices, closed a series of experiments in road building, and though it is regarded as more or less in probation, the utmost confidence in its success is expressed. When hard road building began in the township, four years ago, it was decided to expend the money on hand in experimental way. Monmouth Township had been a sufferer from bad roads.

In winter the town had often been completely blockaded by mud too deep for wagons. Even within the town itself the streets were so poor that at times the "bus" lines were obliged to suspend business, and mail and baggage were carried to the railway station on wheelbarrows. The manner in which the road was laid is described as follows: The ground was prepared for it by grading and being allowed to stand for two months. It was treated to an occasional scraping, so that it would pack evenly, and when the contractors were ready to lay brick it was as hard and even as a floor. The first thing was setting the curbings. This was made by 2 inch X 6 inch oak plank, set 12 feet apart, and held by oak stakes 18 inches long, and put down every 4 feet. Inside this was put a 3 foot bed of sand. This was evenly up, and the single course of No. 1 paving brick was put down. They were set on edge, and made a fine road bed. Outside of the curb 2 feet of crushed brick was laid, giving the width of the road been 70 feet, and a road 11 feet wide. The earth on each side was graded and worked, making it 40 feet wide, and affording tracks on each side for use in any weather. The average cost of the road has been 70 cents per foot. The brick road cost $2,650 for 3,600 feet, or about 30 cents a running foot.

A beautiful Little Rock young lady, kneeling down before the first prayer the other night, as she closed her eyes she glanced under the bed and beheld the outlines of the pants and feet of a hairy man. She gave a squeal and a kick, the former bringing her father and the latter the fire cut of the grate on the garment that wasn't her dress. She was badly scorched in localities, and the man under the bed was her brother's pants and shoes. Moral—Glasgow Times, JUNIPER'S DEFEAT.

He invaded the kitchen and then fled before the enemy.

"Bridget has been so cross and hateful and impatient that there has been no peace with her today," said Mrs. Juniper when her husband came to the other evening.

"Impudent, Mrs. Juniper?" he replied. "You don't mean to tell me that you allow that servant girl to be impudent to you?"

"Allow her, Mrs. Juniper? That girl is so impudent to an angel if she happened to be on her high horse."

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

Headlines of his wife's protest, Juniper went boldly out into the kitchen, and said:

"Get here, girl, I hear that you've been impudent to my mistress."

"Impudent to my mistress, is it? Well, as who can make a hole in the next room, you've come into my kitchen to talk to me as you talk to my mistress, is it? Well, I'll tell you, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Look here, you!"

"O'm' God, look here all right, now O'm' lookin' eyes right in do eye, and as for me, I'll be damned if I'll be impudent to any woman, as if you!"

"Well, I'm not an angel by a long shot, but I'd like to see her be impudent to me, and if she's been angry with me, let her go and make a hole in the next room. You'd better keep her out of the kitchen."

"Well, I think I'll go myself, keeping out of my own kitchen if I want to go into it. I will go into the kitchen, and I'll make Mrs. Juniper O'Callaghan dance from her high horse."

THE NEWS-LEADER

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

SPRINGFIELD, KY.

$5.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

W. F. NEIKIRK
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

OFFICE with C. C. McCREED.

Dr. F. R. WILDER,
DENTIST.All Dental Operations Performed.
TEETH EXTRACTED
WITHOUT PAIN.

In Springfield every first Thursday and Friday next month.

OFFICE—Over Post-office.
Main office, No. 434 Fourth Ave.
Louisville, Ky.

DR. J. F. RINEMART,

OFFICE HOURS: 1 to 4 p. m.

Tuesdays and Saturdays.

SPRINGFIELD, KY.

DR. J. M. BURTON,
RESIDENT DENTIST.TEETH EXTRACTED
WITHOUT PAIN!OFFICE—Hague Block, over Mainfield.
A. B. Jones.

SPRINGFIELD, KY.

Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

J. F. GREENE'S SALOON.

I have opened a saloon on Main Street, adjoining the property of E. M. Kariak, where I will be pleased to have my friends and patrons call when needing any thing in my line. I will keep nothing but the very best brands the market affords. Will make a specialty of the FAMOUS YELLOWSTONE, which has the reputation of being the finest in the world. Your patronage solicited and courtesy extended.

C. R. HARMON,
THE LIVERYMAN

First-class livery outfits. New buggies and fast and safe horse. Jersey wagons and surreys for the use of excursion parties or drunks. The most convenient hitching and feeding place in town.

MAIN ST., SPRINGFIELD, KY.

DR. J. H. LAMPTON.

—OFFICE—

OVER CINCINNATI CLUB'S OFFICE.

Statistical data that thousands of infants and children yearly die of meningitis, diphtheria, whooping cough, etc., etc., and that we state that every one of these infants could have been saved had they been given the medicine in time. Can you afford to be without it in your household?

McKENNA Whiskey.

This celebrated brand of whiskey I keep for sale at my bar, and make a specialty of it for family and for medicinal use.

C. A. THOMPSON.

The home of Ayer's Hair Vigor is a refined and delicate fluid, which does not soil or become rancid by exposure to the air, and which is as perfect a substitute for the oil supplied by nature in youth and health, as modern chemistry can produce.

McELROY & SHULTZ

ARE OFFERING GREAT BARGAINS FOR CASH.

WE HAVE A COMPLETE STOCK OF

Genuine Brown Cultivators
Genuine Brown Double Shovel Plows
Cheap Double Shovel Plows Plow Handles
Single Trees
Double Trees
Garden Forks
Hay Forks
Rakes
Hoes
Shovels and Spades
Wheelbarrows
Curry Combs
Horse Brushes
Barrel Churns and Cedar Churns

TRY THEIR Warranted Razors and Scissors.Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded.

—A Full Line of—Granite Ware Direct from the Manufacturers.
Don't Fail to See it and Get Prices.
Buckeye and Myers Force Tank and Spray Pumps.
ROOFING, GUTTERING AND PLUMBING
—OUR SPECIALTY—
Come and see us and we will Treat You Right.
Our Steel Ranges are —
—THE BEST MADE —

You can Freeze Cream in FIVE Minutes in the Freezers We Sell.

Carpenter's Tools and Builder's Hardware.

ABOUT TOWN.

FRUITS and fresh candies at Bell's.
Fresh fish on Fridays at Jos. A. Shader's.

New spring goods at Mansfield's.
Low prices for cash.

Garment need and all kinds of canned goods at Bell's.

For the latest styles in hats, shoes, shirts and neckties, go to Mansfield's.

VEGETABLES and country produce produce always on hand at Jos. A. Shader's.

For a light lunch or a good square dinner on County Court day, go to Bell's restaurant.

NORTHERN seed potatoes a specialty.
Garden seed of all kinds; give me a call. Jos. A. Shader.

You can get fresh fish and oysters at Bell's during Lent. Sold in quantity or served on short order.

Now is the time to get your horse and jack hille printed. The News-Leader office turns out good bills at low prices.

Notice the new advertisement of McElroy & Shultz, and if you see anything you need in their line, give them a call.

ENTICE outfit in latest spring styles for men, ladies and children. You can dress up very cheap for the cash at Mansfield's.

Go to Thompson & Clements for Hamilton Cultivators and Hamilton Die Harrows. They also sell the Champion Mower and Binder.

HEADQUARTERS for sporting goods at Jos. A. Shader's. Reels, nets, min-now buckets, baseball and bats, trotlines and hooks, seine tines, etc.

LARGE stock of spring clothing at Mansfield's. Custom made, best material, perfect fitting, latest styles, very low prices, as we only sell for cash.

New matting and new furniture just received at Thompson & Clements. Give them a call.

NOTICE—Fishermen and loafers are warned to keep out of the Fair Grounds.

ALBERT KIMBALL.

JIM HAYDON, the colored boy who escaped from jail last week, was caught near Mooreville and returned to jail.

MR. JAMES SHIRLEY, an old and well-to-do citizen of this county, died last Friday at his home near a large family and was a good citizen.

The sale of the personal property on the farm of F. R. Neale took place yesterday afternoon.
Owing to the disagreeable weather only a small crowd was in attendance and prices realized were low.

MISS JOSIE LEE is again at her post behind the counters of Cunningham & Duncan's popular store, and desires to announce to her friends and customers that she is prepared to offer hard-time bargains to all who will call.

A GOOD crowd was in town on Monday the day being fine.
Quite a good deal of stock was offered on the streets, but there was a scarcity of buyers. Several horses were sold at low prices, and quite a number were offered and taken down. A few light cattle brought good prices.

Notice to Creditors.

All creditors of F. S. Hill are hereby notified to present their claims against said F. S. Hill, properly proven, as required by law, before me on or before the 17th day of April, 1907, at the office of W. F. Neikirk in Springfield, Ky. T. J. NALLY, Assignee F. S. Hill.

The barn of J. W. Miller, situated about four miles west of Lebanon, was destroyed by fire
Monday night, with a quantity of provender, implements, etc.
Fifteen head of mules belonging to Mr. Henry Miller also perished in the flames. Loss estimated at about $8,000, with about $800 insurance. Origin of the fire unknown.

MR. A. T. PAYNE, of the Quarter Medicine Co., who has here several weeks ago, was arrested in Nicholasville while selling medicine on the street, for not having his license properly indorsed. The case was continued until Wednesday when Payne was represented by Judge J.
Soule Smith, of Lexington. The prisoner waived examination and was held over to the circuit court in $100 bail.

THE creditors of E. B. and J.
H. Browne, who assigned last week, held a meeting Tuesday and endeavored to arrive at a settlement among themselves.
It was thought that an agreement had been reached by which the creditors were to get 45 cents on the dollar on claims against E. B. Browne, and 70 cents for claims against John Browne. A misunderstanding was had, however, about preferred claims and no agreement was reached. An other meeting will be held and it is possible that some understanding will be arrived at, otherwise the affairs will be taken through the courts for adjustment.

The last meeting of the Chantanooga was held at Mrs. Will Thurman's. The lesson was unusually long, otherwise the program was short. "The story of the blind," and "The story of the Odyssey" was told respectively by Misses Jennie Browne and Kate Mayes. The quotations were from Hamlet. Misses Ruby Lampton, Lizzie Waters and Mary Claybrook McElroy kindly favored us with recitations. Adjourned to meet again Monday evening, March 28th, with Mrs. A. J. McCreed. Program: Roll call; quotations from
"The Seven Wise Men of Greece"; Lesson by class; Paper, "Socrates," Mrs. Jack Thompson; Literary Analysis, "In Memoriam," J. T. C. Noe; "Constantinople," Miss Sue Bell; an Essay, "The Athenians and Spartans," Miss Mary Browne; "The Story of Elaine," Mrs. A. J. Mc-

Creed; Select Reading, Mrs. J.
H. Lampton.

It is impossible to be happy or cheerful or useful when one is suffering from a discomforting cold or a nasty little cough. It is wonderful that some people will go on from day to day suffering from a discomforting cold or a nasty little cough. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will relieve the most stubborn cough.

PERSONAL.

F. B. Noe was in St. Mary's Sunday.

E. D. Lake went to Louisville yesterday on business.

Mrs. W. C. McChord is in Louisville for a short visit.

Miss Louise Saunders has gone to Louisville for a visit to relatives.

Mr. C. A. Cambon, of Lebanon, was in town Tuesday on business.

Mr. Will Hayes, of Bloomfield, was in town Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. J. G. Mansfield and daughter Miss Myrtle, are in Louisville this week.

Misses Jennie Craycroft and Willie Mayes left this morning for Louisville on a visit.

Mr. Newell McCluskey, of Bloomfield, was here Tuesday to visit the family of E. B. Browne.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. C. Lawson went to Louisville yesterday morning to attend the Moody meetings.

Emmett McElroy and Sidney Greene were home from Centre College for a few days last week.

Mr. J. B. Soss, formerly a merchant of Williamsburg, this county, has moved to Danville to make his home.

Harry Thompson and Stith Noe went to Lebanon Tuesday night to attend a banquet given by the Knight Templars.

Mrs. T. Scott Mayes had a narrow escape from being seriously hurt by a runaway horse on the street the other day. The horse, after getting loose from a vehicle, ran over her, throwing her down, slightly injuring one knee.

PASSED COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Edgar Bryant and Charles Bryant, two young men from Washington county, were arrested in Harrodsburg Tuesday morning for passing counterfeit money, says the Democrat. Bryant bought a nickel's worth of apples from Bob Bridges and gave him as base a fifty-cent piece as was ever made, receiving forty-five cents back in change. Brown passed a piece of "the queer" of the same denomination on Dad McFee, the colored Smoky Row caterer, and got back forty-five cents. Bridges soon discovered that he had been swindled and called up town and found Bryant standing on the Mercer National Bank corner. He pointed him out to Jailer Chatham who arrested him over to Tom Middleton and went after Brown who was overtaken while getting out of town at a lively pace. In the police court the men were searched by Chatham and Smith and seven counterfeit half dollars were found in Bryant's yarn socks. A search of their grip revealed some samples of plated ware, a deck of cards and a quart of whisky. Both are green country men and do not seem to realize the seriousness of their offense. On the witness stand Bryant confessed that the money had been worked off on them and they thought they would get rid of it the same way. Both are well connected in this and Washington counties, and have evidently been reading yellow-back literature. Judge Corn held them over in $300 each. Afterwards nine counterfeit silver half dollars were found near the Academy, where Brown was captured by Chatham.

Brown was released yesterday his brother coming from Washington county and going on his bond. Bryant, it is thought, will give bond in a day or two.

AT THE CHURCHES.

This column will be devoted to the religious and church interests of our town, and communications and announcements from the pastors of the Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist and Catholic Churches are solicited.

The Methodist Church is to have a bell. Rev. Atkinson, the pastor, has interested himself in the effort to raise a fund for that purpose and has succeeded in securing enough to start the work of putting in the bell tower. The church has never had a bell, the one at the Court House having been used to call the congregation to services.

The Ladies prayer meeting will be held next Monday at the home of Mrs. Peters.

Rev. Lawson, of the Presbyterian Church, will preach next Sunday morning from the text
"The Unbeliever's Doom." The subject at the evening service will be "Christ the Teacher."

The dinner given on County Court day by the ladies of the Presbyterian church was a success in every respect. Over 200 people were served to an elegant dinner, and about $50 was the sum realized from the affair.
The ladies deserve great credit for the admirable way the thing was managed.

SUICIDE IN JAPAN.

Threat Conditions Seem to Strengthen the Impulses of Despair.

An interesting essay on the prevalence of suicide in Japan was written by Dr. Saito Kikaku, a native statistician. The statistics extend over ten years and show that suicide has been on the increase in Japan, both actually and in proportion to the total number of deaths.

In the case of Japanese women the age at which suicide is most frequently committed is the corresponding period with men is 35. Comparatively few women commit suicide before the age of 25 years, but after that age they are past the danger line and they are past the danger line.

The women after marriage usually take life as they find it and submit with docility to its conditions. The sciences of men are due to the worries and reverses of business and are often the result of cold and deliberate choice between two evils. Female suicides are rather more than half those of males, but with a distinct tendency to increase.

From January to May are the worst months for suicides. The number mounts rapidly month by month from January to May and keeps high until July, and it falls to its lowest in November. The suicides of December and January are attributed partly to penury from bills at the close of the year, when accounts are supposed to be closed and all bills must be paid. A rise in July is attributed to financial troubles at the half year.

In recent years the use of the sword by suicides is decreasing greatly. Hanging is the method most frequently employed, nearly three-fourths of the male suicides and nearly half the female having terminated their lives in this way; but among women drowning is more common than hanging. First arms and poison are very rarely used, probably because they are not readily obtainable, while a Japanese of either sex always has a long firearm and always has water sufficient to cause drowning at hand in the house or in every village and adjacent to almost every house.

The figure shows that the number of suicides varies by year with the price of rice. It rises when the price of rice is high and falls when the price is cheap. It is also evident that the number of suicides and industry have a greater proportion than other countries.

Dr. Saito has endeavored to tabulate the causes of Japanese suicides and from the figures for four years which he gives it appears that about

SPECIAL SALE.

Don't miss this opportunity of getting the GREATEST BARGAINS ever offered before.

We have a lot of Gents' and Children's Shoes in a variety of Styles and grades. Some are slightly shop-worn, but will wear as well as new goods. See if your size is in this lot and get it at a BARGAIN.

Some of the best makes of Shoes are included in this Special Sale.

We are now receiving our SPRING STOCK of SHOES. Latest Lasts and Toes, for Gentlemen, Ladies' and Children.

We are offering Great Bargains in Clothing. Don't spend a dollar until you have seen our stock.

MCHORD & ROBERTSON.

PAWILL & COMPANY
HARDWARE PAINTS OILS AND BUILDING MATERIALS
LOUISVILLE, KY.

WORMS!
Get our Great Catalogue and Buyers Guide. We'll send it for 15 cents in stamps to pay post postage
or expressage. The Book's Free.
Give names, addresses, give descriptions everything that's new in life; tell us what you ought to buy, whether you buy of us or not.
One profit from maker to user. Outfit
FREE.

Over-Profile Paying Stop It
Get our Great Catalogue and Buyers Guide. We'll send it for 15
cents in stamps to pay post postage
or expressage. The Book's Free.
Give names, addresses, give descriptions everything that's new
in life; tell us what you ought to
buy, whether you buy of us or not.
One profit from maker to user. Outfit
FREE.

TABLER'S PINK
BUCK EYE PILL
OINTMENT
CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.
A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE
known for 15 years as the
BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

TABLER'S PINK
BUCK EYE PILL
OINTMENT
CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.
A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE
known for 15 years as the
BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

TABLER'S PINK
BUCK EYE PILL
OINTMENT
CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.
A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE
known for 15 years as the
BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

TABLER'S PINK
BUCK EYE PILL
OINTMENT
CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.
A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE
known for 15 years as the
BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

TABLER'S PINK
BUCK EYE PILL
OINTMENT
CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.
A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE
known for 15 years as the
BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

TABLER'S PINK
BUCK EYE PILL
OINTMENT
CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.
A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE
known for 15 years as the
BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

TABLER'S PINK
BUCK EYE PILL
OINTMENT
CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.
A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE
known for 15 years as the
BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

900 PROPS

SEE THAT THE FAC-SIMILE SIGNATURE OF CHAS. H. PETERSON IS ON THE WRAPPER OF EVERY BOTTLE OF CASTORIA

Vegetable Preparation for Assuaging the Pains and Irritations of the Stomach and Bowels of INFANTS & CHILDREN.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness, and Sleep. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Approved Remedy for Constipation, Stomach Disorders, Diarrhoea, Worms, Colic, Feverishness, and Loss of Sleep.

See Similar Signature of CHAS. H. PETERSON NEW YORK.

35 DROPS & 15 CENTS.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

OUR Clubbing List.

The best Magazines and Newspaper published in the country offered at reduced rates to NEWS-LEADER subscribers.

As a special inducement to new subscribers and old ones who renew we have at a little trouble and expense made arrangements with a large number of magazines and newspapers to offer them at greatly reduced rates. In some cases, we offer you the NEWS-LEADER and the other publication together for one year at the price of the one.

Now is the time to begin and here is a list of some of the offers:

NEWS-LEADER
Louisville Post, daily	$2.75
Courier Journal, twice a week	1.50
Louisville Commercial, daily	5.00
Louisville Commercial, weekly	1.25
Home and Farm	1.40
Farmers Home Journal	1.75
Cin. Commercial Tribune	1.40
Cincinnati Enquirer	1.50
Country Gentleman	3.00
Intermediate Postman	1.20
Ohio Farmer	1.50
Independent	3.50
Silver Knight	1.75
St. Louis Globe-Democrat	1.50
Century Magazine	3.50
St. Nicholas	3.50
Southern Florist and Gardener	1.50
Mayflower	1.80
Harper's Magazine	4.00
Harper's Weekly	4.25
Harper's Bazar	4.25
Harper's Round Table	1.50
N. Y. World	1.50
Munsey's Magazine	1.80
McClure's Magazine	1.80
Ladies Home Ideal	1.00
Review of Reviews	3.00
New York Weekly Tribune	1.25
N. Y. Times & Week World	1.25
Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly	3.50

A distinction without a difference amounts to nothing. There is a difference—a real difference—a vast difference between Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pile-Treatment and any other cough, cold or croup remedy. To see it or taste it proves this immediately, but the greatest difference is to be found in the results coming from its use. Besides cutting the plug and curing the cough or cold at once, it soothes the irritated throat, loosens and loosens the lungs and bronchial tubes. It fortifies the system against cold from the use of which no evil after effects can arise.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If pneumonia is not, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe, we have yet to hear of a single case having resulted in pneumonia! which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It will effect a permanent cure in less than a week of any other treatment. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Druggists & Retailers.

The use of Ayer's Pile-Treatment is a refined and delicate fluid, which does not soil or become rancid by exposure to the air, and which is perfectly safe when used on the child or the aged. It is a most valuable remedy for the health, as modern medicine is proud to possess.

LIST OF CLAIMS

For Work on Roads Allowed by Fiscal Court at Its October Term 1896.

Armstrong Joshua	81.00
Anderson Jas.	5.50
Adams Harrison	3.75
Adams Sam	1.00
Armstrong Bruner	1.00
Anderson A. O.	5.00
Anderson Steve	1.00
Anderson Jas.	2.70
Anderson A. O.	25.00
Adkinson Jerry	4.75
Adkinson Irvine	1.25
Adkinson Ed.	1.25
Anderson Bob	4.25
Anderson Chas.	2.75
Anderson Wm.	1.75
Anderson A. O.	2.50
Anderson Luke	2.50
Alfred Seymour	2.00
Armstrong Isaac	4.00
Adams Cook R.	5.00
Arnold Arvin	5.50
Anderson Sidney	1.00
Anderson Sidney	2.00
Aubrey Wick	2.40
Aubrey Jas.	75.00
Aubrey Vern	50.00
Ash Thos.	1.50
Anderson J. H.	50.00
Arnold J. N.	64.00
Arnold Wm.	75.00
Arnold Sam W.	25.00
Adkinson G. P.	1.00
Adams Bill	5.00
Caswell W.	5.00
Boblett Edwark	1.25
Boblett Heskan	1.25
Boone Daniel	25.00
Brady J. A.	6.20
Borders Ollie	1.00
Burke Oswell	3.00
Burke J. W.	8.20
Bowman J. G.	1.00
Brooks Jesse	1.00
Brookette G. W.	4.00
Booker Frank col.	50.00
Blacketter Geo.	1.00
Bruner Chas.	1.00
Burns Nathan	2.00
Baker Thos.	2.40
Baker	2.40
Barnett Jas.	2.50
Best R.	2.80
Best J.	1.50
Burns Otho	1.55
Burns Hal Mrs.	1.00
Bottom W. F.	50.00
Bottom Andy J.	75.00
Blacketter G. H.	1.00
Booker Frank	1.00
Biggers Smalley	1.00
Barlow W. B.	25.00
Barnett John	1.00
Blackford A. J.	2.00
Boblett Wm.	75.00
Baker Ben	1.00
Burns W. S.	1.00
Birch Ed.	1.50
Birch Elvin	9.50
Birch Jas.	1.75
Birch Geo.	1.50
Barbour Levi col.	2.50
Best Bill	75.00
Barbour Geo.	2.50
Barbour Harry	1.50
Burton Simon	2.50
Begley T. R.	4.50

Brady & Co.	5.30
Brady Clay	2.45
Best S. H.	1.25
Barker Geo.	1.50
Borders Pete	3.55
Burns John	1.00
Boone Dominic	1.00
Borders Garland	75.00
Baker Geo.	4.10
Buge B. F.	3.75
Blackford Will.	60.00
Bottoms J. W.	1.75
Bottoms John	1.75
Bottoms Sherman	1.75
Bottoms Jake	1.50
Ballard Baker	1.00
Beam Wm.	1.00
Barlow W. B.	1.00
Brown Ben	1.00
Barnett Charlie	25.00
Barbour Will col.	1.00
Brown Edgar	44.00
Brown Alex	44.00
Haven W. T.	1.00
Boblett David	50.00
Bottom S. M.	19.20
Brady Michael J.	50.00
Barlow Peter Jr.	50.00
Backman Wil.	1.00
Bowles J. N.	8.00
Powles Schuyler	1.00
Barnett John W.	2.25
Best Squire	7.05
Baker R. M.	10.90
Barker Wm.	3.50
Bushy	1.00
Ball Ind.	1.00
Burkhead John P.	1.00
Burkhead John P.	1.00
Brown Jas.	6.25
Barlicks Rie	5.00
Baker Wm.	7.20
Bishop Eli.	8.50
Harpor Harve	3.75
Baker Wm.	50.00
Brady Bill col.	5.25
Barbour Cato col.	5.25
Burns F. M.	2.00
Brady Thos col.	5.10
Barker G. W.	1.50
Barbour Levi col.	1.00
Baker John H.	1.00
Baker Dee.	3.20
Burns Emilie Mrs.	3.60
Burns Chas.	1.50
Brown John H.	50.00
Baker A. B.	2.50
Bunch Jas.	25.00
Bunch W. S.	1.00
Begley J. M.	4.00
Darax Ben	2.00
Baker Jas.	1.50
Baker Perry	50.00
Bug B. F.	12.80
Brown Jerome	1.50
Brown Jerome	1.00
Barnett G. W.	2.20
Blacketter Addison	4.50
Cooksey Sam	1.50
Cissell Wash.	1.00
Cissell Marion	1.25
Cambro C. C.	4.62
Conder Geo.	4.70
Campbell G. N.	2.00
Cregor Jas.	1.00
Casoughner Clem.	2.40
Co Emily Mrs.	4.25
do T. C.	4.20
do G. W.	14.00
do Sam	3.00
Coalter John	1.50
Clin W. S.	1.00
Coker John	2.00
Coyle B. M.	3.50
Coyle Mollie Mrs.	1.00
Campbell Will O.	75.00
do Scott.	25.00
Coehran Jas.	75.00
Coutsinger Bill	1.00
do Robt.	1.50
Campbell S. D.	3.15
Call Mary	1.00
Carroll Bill	2.00
do R. J.	4.20
Cambro Geo.	1.25
Cissell Tine Sr.	3.40
Carrico Charlie col.	1.25
do do	50.00
Callert Geo.	3.50
Clark John	2.25
Clark Dave	1.75
Coyle Clarence	6.50
Crawford Bad.	1.50
Cox Ely.	2.00
Cocconougher W. R.	5.45
do Clem.	4.80
Cochran Lee	1.30
Coyle M. H.	3.00
Cocconougher G. W.	3.20
Coyle J. M.	7.20
Clark Geo.	1.75
Campbell J. C.	3.00
do Joe	75.00
Crow M. C.	3.25
Crow M. F.	1.00
Caslow Charles	1.00
do Henry	1.00

CONTINUED.

"Success is the reward of merit" not of assumption. Popular appreciation of what is the real run of. For fifty years, people have been using Ayer's Pile-Treatment, and today it is the highest praise that can be given to a purifier most in favor with the public. Ayer's Pile-Treatment cures.

THE INFLUENCE

of the Mother shapes the course of unborn generations—goes bounding, therefore, through the ages and enters the confines of Eternity. With what care, therefore, should the Expectant Mother be guarded, and how great the effort be to ward off danger and make her life joyous and happy.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

allays all Nervousness, relieves the Headache, Cramps, and Nausea, and so fully prepares the system that Childbirth is made easy and the time of recovery shortened—may say stronger after than before confinement. It insures safety to life of both mother and child. All who have used "Mother's Friend" say they will never be without it again. No other remedy relieves confinement of its pain.

"A mother whose wife with a Mother's Friend, says that it has been to her the greatest blessing, and that it has saved her from the most painful and dangerous confinement." The BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic will be pleased to know that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and if taken as soon as the first indications of the attack appear, it will prevent the attack. For sale by Hayden & Robertson.

"That Tired Feeling" overcomes us when inferior preparations are recommended by unscrupulous dealers as "just as good as Foley's Honey and Tar Cough Syrup," when we know the unequalled merits of this great medicine.

PLEASANTVILLE POULTRY YARDS.

White P. Rocks and La. Brahma. Pen of W. P. Rocks, females secure for 1897, headed by first prize cockerel at Louisville Show. First prize pen for most excellent at Louisville Show—score 100—headed by first prize cockerel at Louisville Show. Eggs $1.50 per 15. J. M. MOORE, Pleasantville, Ky.

OUR FRUIT TREES.

Grapes, etc., never were more thrifty, sooner or better bowered. Why send away from home for fruit trees when your wants can be filled by your neighbor? Send your orders and you will not regret it. GARDEN CITY, N. Y.

MAPLE HEAD POULTRY YARDS.

Black-Langshan Pullets of Hawkin's strain, mated with a Grand Robinson Cock, Eggs $1.00 per 15. White Plymouth Rock Hens and Eggs, $1.00 per 15. Black-Langshan Pullets, $1.00 per 15. Black-Langshan Hens, $1.00 per 15. J. M. DOWNEY, Lexington, Ky.

Chickens and Eggs

Pure Plymouth Rocks for sale. Eggs, 25 cents per setting of 15. MRS. H. M. O'NAN.

Notice to Creditors.

All persons having claims against the estates of C. N. and A. B. Cooper, assigned, will present same properly proven to the undersigned on or before March 20, 1897.

T. W. SIMMS, Jr., Assignee of C. N. and A. B. Cooper.

Plenty of Work for the Solons.

The call for the extra session of the Kentucky Legislature which opened Saturday of last week embraces forty-two subjects for consideration of the law-makers, among them:—The prevention of mob violence, the punishment of those engaged in same, The curtailing of salaries, fees, expenses and costs in each branch of the public service. The adoption of such legislation as may be necessary to provide for the building or purchase of a house, or houses of reform. Thoroughly amending, changing and revising the election laws. Providing that all elections for school trustees shall be held by secret ballot. Apportioning the State into Appellate and Circuit Court, senatorial and legislative districts as provided by the Constitution. Compelling State banks, trust companies, private banks, building and loan associations and other like institutions to make quarterly reports. Providing severe punishment of all persons who interrupt public meetings or speakers, or deny or abridge the right of free speech. Protecting trees and plants from the ravages of the San Jose scale.—Corbin News.

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is an important addition to the list of valuable medicinal remedies. Harmless in its nature, yet almost infallible in its action, it is undoubtedly the most effective remedy known today of curing coughs, colds and kidney diseases.

1881 THE CULTIVATOR 1887

COUNTRY - GENTLEMAN.

THE BEST OF THE AGRICULTURAL WEEKLIES.

DEVOTED TO Farm Crops and Processes, Horticulture & Fruit Growing, Live-Stock and Dairying.

While it also includes all minor departments of Rural Interest, such as the Farm Yard, Entomology, New-Killing Greenhouses and Grapes, Veterinary Hints, Farm Questions and Answers, Friends' Reading, Domestic Economy and a summary of the news of the week. Its market reports are unusually complete, and much attention is paid to the prospects of the crops, as showing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell. It is liberally illustrated, and contains more reading matter than that ever before. The subscription price is $2.00 per year, but with a SPECIAL REDUCTION in our CLUB RATES FOR 1897.

Two Subscriptions for one year, only $3.00

Six Subscriptions for one year, only $10.00

Twelve Subscriptions for one year, only $18.00

For all New Subscribers for 1897, pay in advance. We will send the paper free of charge for one year, without charge.

For the year 1897, without charge.

Now is the time to subscribe for the NEWS-LEADER, only $1 a year.

"Nothing else like it"

The most refreshing and pleasant Soap for the skin.

It lasts twice as long as others. A trial will convince you of its great value. Write for most complete list of agents.

CHARLES F. MILLER, Sole Agent for the South, 100 N. 3rd St., Lancaster, Penn.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

FENCING

WIRE ROPE SILVER. DRURY, Ky. N. B. COUNTY.

Wanted

RELIABLE MAN OR WOMAN ASSURED IMMEDIATELY INCOME TO SUIT PERS. SON. THE BEST PAY EVER OFFERED FOR SIMILAR SERVICE. The Cincinnati Magazine, edited by J. J. Brown, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

IT IS PREPARED TO PAY HANDSOMELY FOR ASSURANCE BUSINESS. IT wishes the services of reliable men or women, who can sell its insurance in every town, village, country district, or manufacturing establishment in every State. All that is required of any one is reliability, earnestness and work. No matter on what other work you are engaged, it will pay you to devote some time to this. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

THE HULLER WOVEN WIRE FENCE CO. 101 N. 10th and 10th St. Cincinnati, O.

SPECIAL OFFER!

THE HOME A bright, clean family paper, full of interesting reading for all; published at Louisville, Ky., for 30¢ a year, and

THE NEWS-LEADER

FOR

$1.20.

This applies to all who pay up their arrears, and new subscribers.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c. ADVICE AND ASSISTANCE IN OBTAINING PATENTS. Inventions of all kinds, mechanical, electrical, chemical, and agricultural, are given prompt attention. Inventions are given prompt attention. Inventions are given prompt attention.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

Scientific American, the largest and most influential scientific journal in the world, is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind. It is a valuable and interesting work, and a quarter of a million in circulation, already the best of its kind.

THE NEWS-LEADER'S "GIFT"

When we are hard, and we "stand fast." We have arranged to make our subscribers a gift that will last the whole year. We will send every person who calls at our office and pays up a year in advance, all of the following high grade monthlies and valuable hand books:

Farm News

Published at Springfield, Ohio. A practical farm paper, that is filled with the practical experience of actual farmers. It is ably edited, thoroughly up to the times, and keeps its readers posted on the wonderful advances made every month by progressive agriculturists in the science of tilling the soil. 50 cents per annum. Send for a free sample copy.

Womankind

A monthly magazine for women and the home. Its bright stories, poems and sketches, its clear and wholesome editorials, its practical suggestions on home life and woman's work make it a universal favorite. It cannot fail to interest and please every member of the family. The publishers at Springfield, Ohio, will be glad to send the readers of this paper a free sample copy. 50 cents per annum.

Farm News Poultry Book

A hand book on the care of poultry, needs of the farmer and the small breeder. It is practical. You can easily understand what it means and easily carry out its suggestions. Thousands of copies have been sold. Price 25 cents.

Womankind Cook Book

A collection of the favorite recipes of WOMANKIND. Every recipe is a tested standard of some practical housekeeper. The book has proved very popular and we are sure you will like it. Price 25 cents.

OUR OFFER FREE! OUR OFFER

To every one paying up all arrears and one year's subscription to the NEWS-LEADER in advance, we will send (both) the above named monthlies and (both) the books. Take advantage of this offer at once.

ADDRESS E. L. DAVISON, Jr., Publisher.

LIGHTNING HOT DROPS

BREAKS UP A COLD. Sold Everywhere—25 and 50¢ Per Bottle. In Bulk, $1.00 Per Dozen. Trade Markers on each bottle.

THOMPSON & CLEMENTS, UNDERTAKERS AND